

Summer Camps 2011

Shenanigan's Improv Camp

June 13 - 17 from 10am - 3pm

Ages 9 to 16

$395

We'll be exploring the fun and often wacky world of improvisational acting for five fast-paced days! Using acting games and exercises, each day brings new adventures as we build up to creating scenes based on suggestions from our audience. If you've seen "Whose Line Is It, Anyway?", you've got an idea what you'll be in for. We'll explore the art of using our imagination to build a story - one that has never been told before and will never be told again! (It's improv!) At the end of the week, we'll use our new skills to put on a fantastic family and friends performance.

Puppetry Camp

June 27 - July 1 from 10am - 3pm

Ages 9 to 16

$395

In this innovative puppetry arts class, our campers will let their imaginations soar when they design and make unique puppet creations from a wide variety of materials and every day objects. We will explore many types of puppets, from the simple to the sublime, including sock puppets, shadow puppets - we'll even create our own individual fleece puppets (think Ernie and Kermit!) We will practice handling them and giving them voice and character and finish the week with an entertaining "Puppet Improv" show for family and friends. (Plus we get to take home a bunch of new puppet friends to keep the shows going!)

Drama Camp

June 20 - 25 from 10am - 3pm

Ages 4-8

$395

Stage Play Theater Camp for little learners will be packed with active stage games, learning the ropes of theater terminology, role-playing, pretending, movement, music, and even mask making! It will be a hands on camp, designed by someone with 10 years experience in the classroom with sensory sensitive learners and a lifetime of loving the stage. Wear clothes that are comfortable and can get MESSY!

Little Friends Author Studies

July 25 - 29 from 9am - 12pm

For pre-K, rising K, rising 1st

$199

Come and learn about famous children's authors through art, music, read alouds, writing, and lots and lots of fun! Dr. Seuss, Eric Carle, Lois Elhert, and more.

Music Camp

August 1 - 5 from 9am - 12pm

$199

A FUN week learning new songs, playing lots of instruments and making new friends! Campers will make TWO musical instruments to take home!
